

Arizona OHV Grant Project

The mission of the Arizona Off Highway Vehicle Program is to develop vehicular recreational opportunities and educational programs that promote user education, interagency cooperation and natural resource protection.

The Arizona Legislature created the OHV Program in 1991. The Legislature set the funding mechanism at 0.55 percent of the annual state motor fuel tax revenues. In 2009 the decal program began. And today both funds are used for OHV projects.

The fund is administered by the Arizona State Parks who receive 60 percent of the funds for grants and agreements (12 percent is for administration by AZ State Parks or the program) for OHV projects such as road construction, development and maintenance, of roads and trails and signage and maps; 35 percent goes to Game and Fish Department for law enforcement, education and outreach; 5 percent to the Arizona State Land Department for mitigation, signage and enforcement.

More information can be found at the Game and Fish Website: <https://www.azgfd.com/ohv>.

Redington History

The Redington Pass area is very popular with all types of outdoor recreation. This includes four wheel drive, ATV's, UTV's and motorcycles. But it also offers hunting, birdwatching, hiking, bicycling and equestrians back country experiences.

Signs, restroom, parking/staging areas and single track bypasses along the main road were constructed under an Arizona OHV grant in cooperation with the Coronado National Forest Service.

Redington is also open range for cattle ranching be aware of your surroundings.

The Route

The Redington Pass area has trails for all levels of experience, most are considered moderate.

The more difficult trails are the Three Feathers entrance, Chive Falls and Redington Loop.

As with most off road routes in Arizona the terrain can change with the weather.

These trails should be driven with vehicles that are equipped with a lift, aggressive tires, locking differentials are extremely helpful. A spotter, someone to guide you through a difficult area, for those with less experience is good for some of the tougher spots.

Contact a local OHV club to help you pick the trail that is right for you.
